Chinese New Year Goodies Honey Cornflakes

It was truly an unforgettable experience for both the children and teachers. Never will we think that simple recipe can make such a tasty treat for our friends and families. During this Chinese New Year festive season, we took some time to make our very own honey cornflakes goodies.

We carefully ensure that every single cup of cornflakes is baked at its best. Crispy toasted and covered with our golden honey, the original taste of honey cornflakes is ready to wake up to the world of its taste!

- Here's the recipe:
- 90 g of butter
  - 1 table spoon of honey
  - 1/2 cup sugar
  - 4 cups of cornflakes

"Truly an unforgettable experience!"

We invited an expert, Uncle Winston, to be our master in Chinese calligraphy. He took time to explain the different strokes involved in this art. It might look simple but lots of practice, patience and precision was being involved.

The children could not stop practising the Chinese characters even though it was somehow foreign to them initially. With great patience, each of them created a few master piece.

Time for some exciting moments!

"Chinese New Year Steamboat!"

What is better than time well spent together over a steamy, hot pot with lots of fresh and tasty food? We had so much fun, laughter and joy while sitting around the table. We had 2 sessions of steamboat for both the morning and afternoon children. We captured the moments where children learn to serve one another, helping their friends to scoop and cook and ensuring that everyone had enough food to go around. Now even without adults around to remind them, these kids know how to go about sharing. Amidst all the fun and joy, we see children deepening friendships and learning to care!
